Mr. Robinson too saw the need of this office; and I misunderstand him very much, if he would have modelled his parish schools according to this plan, without being himself this active superintendent. I serving the recognised division of parishes, and placing each portion under the superintendance of the incumbent. The Sunday schools of St. Mary s parish contained many children; received liberal support from the vicar and from the congregation, and were diligently inspected and instructed. But Mr. Robinson s time was so fully occupied on the Sunday, that he could do little more than see that they had instructors and supervisors, and regulate such of their concerns as were within the controul of a treasurer and monthly committee. The Benevolent Society is an institution which was founded through the same influence in the year 1786. Its object is to assist the sick poor, or those who from whatever cause may be reduced to temporary need, with small donations or weekly supplies of money at their own homes. For this purpose, cases are proposed and considered by the subscribers at each monthly committee, and the treasurer, together with the clergy in their several parishes, has the privilege of advancing sums on account of the society in the interval between the meetings: the degree of relief is apportioned R to the necessities of the...
